Belle is a happy girl who dreams of great adventures like those in the books that she loves to read.

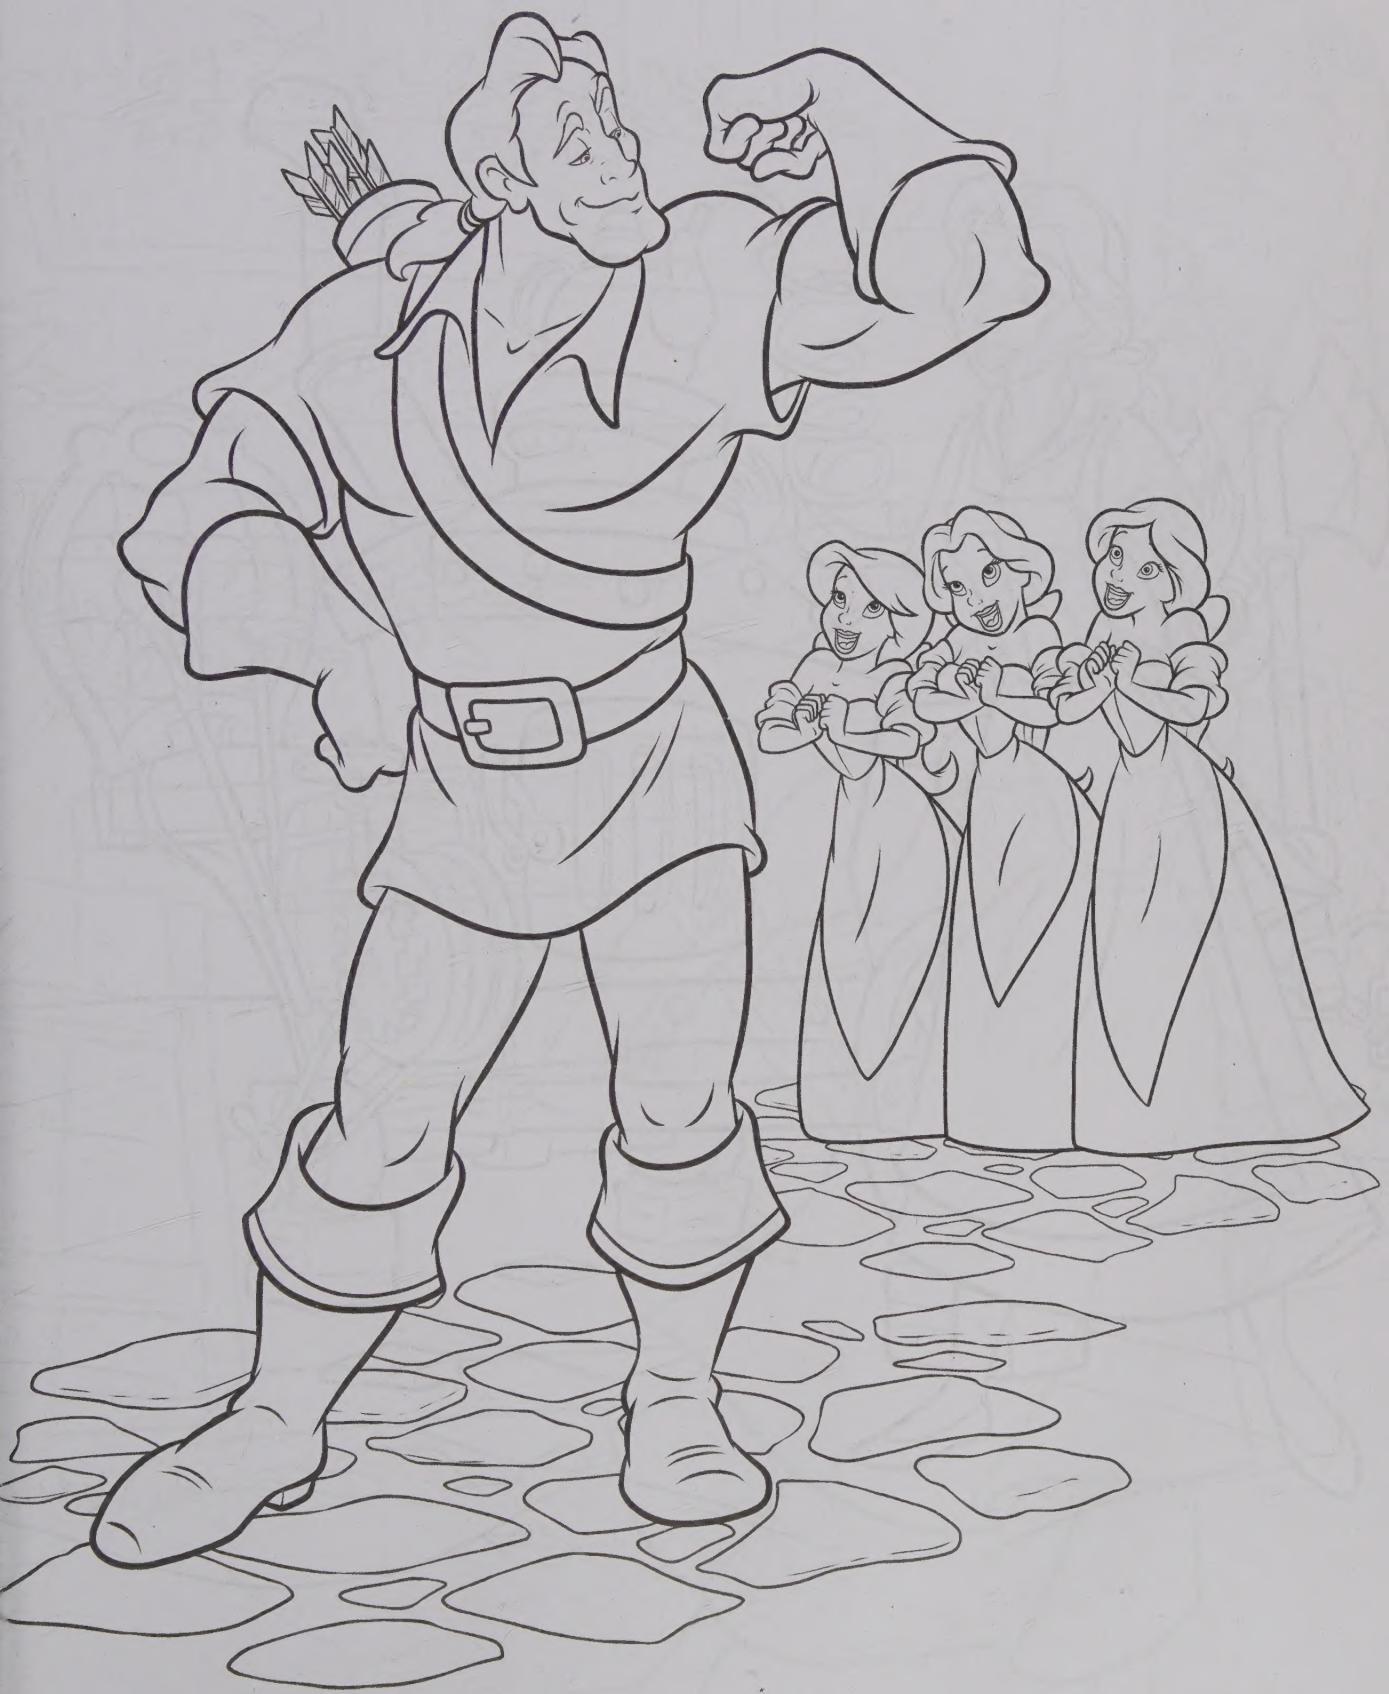

The Beast was once a handsome prince until an enchantress cast a spell on him.

To break the spell the Beast must learn to love and be loved in return, before the last petal falls from this rose.

In Belle's village, Gaston is hoping to make Belle his wife.

Belle loves to see what crazy inventions her father comes up with!

Belle waves goodbye to her father, Maurice, as he takes his latest creation to the fair.

As night falls poor Maurice loses his way.

Maurice finds shelter at the enchanted castle.
Inside he meets a candlestick called Lumiere ...

... and a teacup called Chip. They are some of the castle's enchanted servants and are very pleased to see him.

The Beast is very angry when he finds a stranger in his castle!
He throws Maurice into his dungeon.

When Philippe returns home without Maurice,
Belle knows that something is wrong.

When she reaches the castle, Belle finds the Beast. Although scared, she offers to take her father's place.

Belle is comforted by the enchanted servants, who are delighted that she has arrived at the castle.

Belle opens the door to a mysterious room and sees a beautiful rose on the table.

The Beast is angry with Belle for finding the rose.
He orders her to leave.

In the forest, Belle is suddenly surrounded by a pack of scary wolves.

Just as the wolves are about to hurt Belle,
the Beast appears through the trees.

The Beast drives the wolves away, but Belle is worried because the Beast is hurt. She decides to look after him.

Meanwhile, Gaston still wants to marry Belle.
He hates not getting his own way!

At the castle, Belle teaches the Beast to dance and they are fast becoming very good friends.

The Beast realizes that he might be falling in love with Belle.

Belle looks in the Beast's magic mirror and sees that her father is lost.

The Beast tells Belle she is no longer his prisoner.
Belle quickly leaves the castle to find her father.

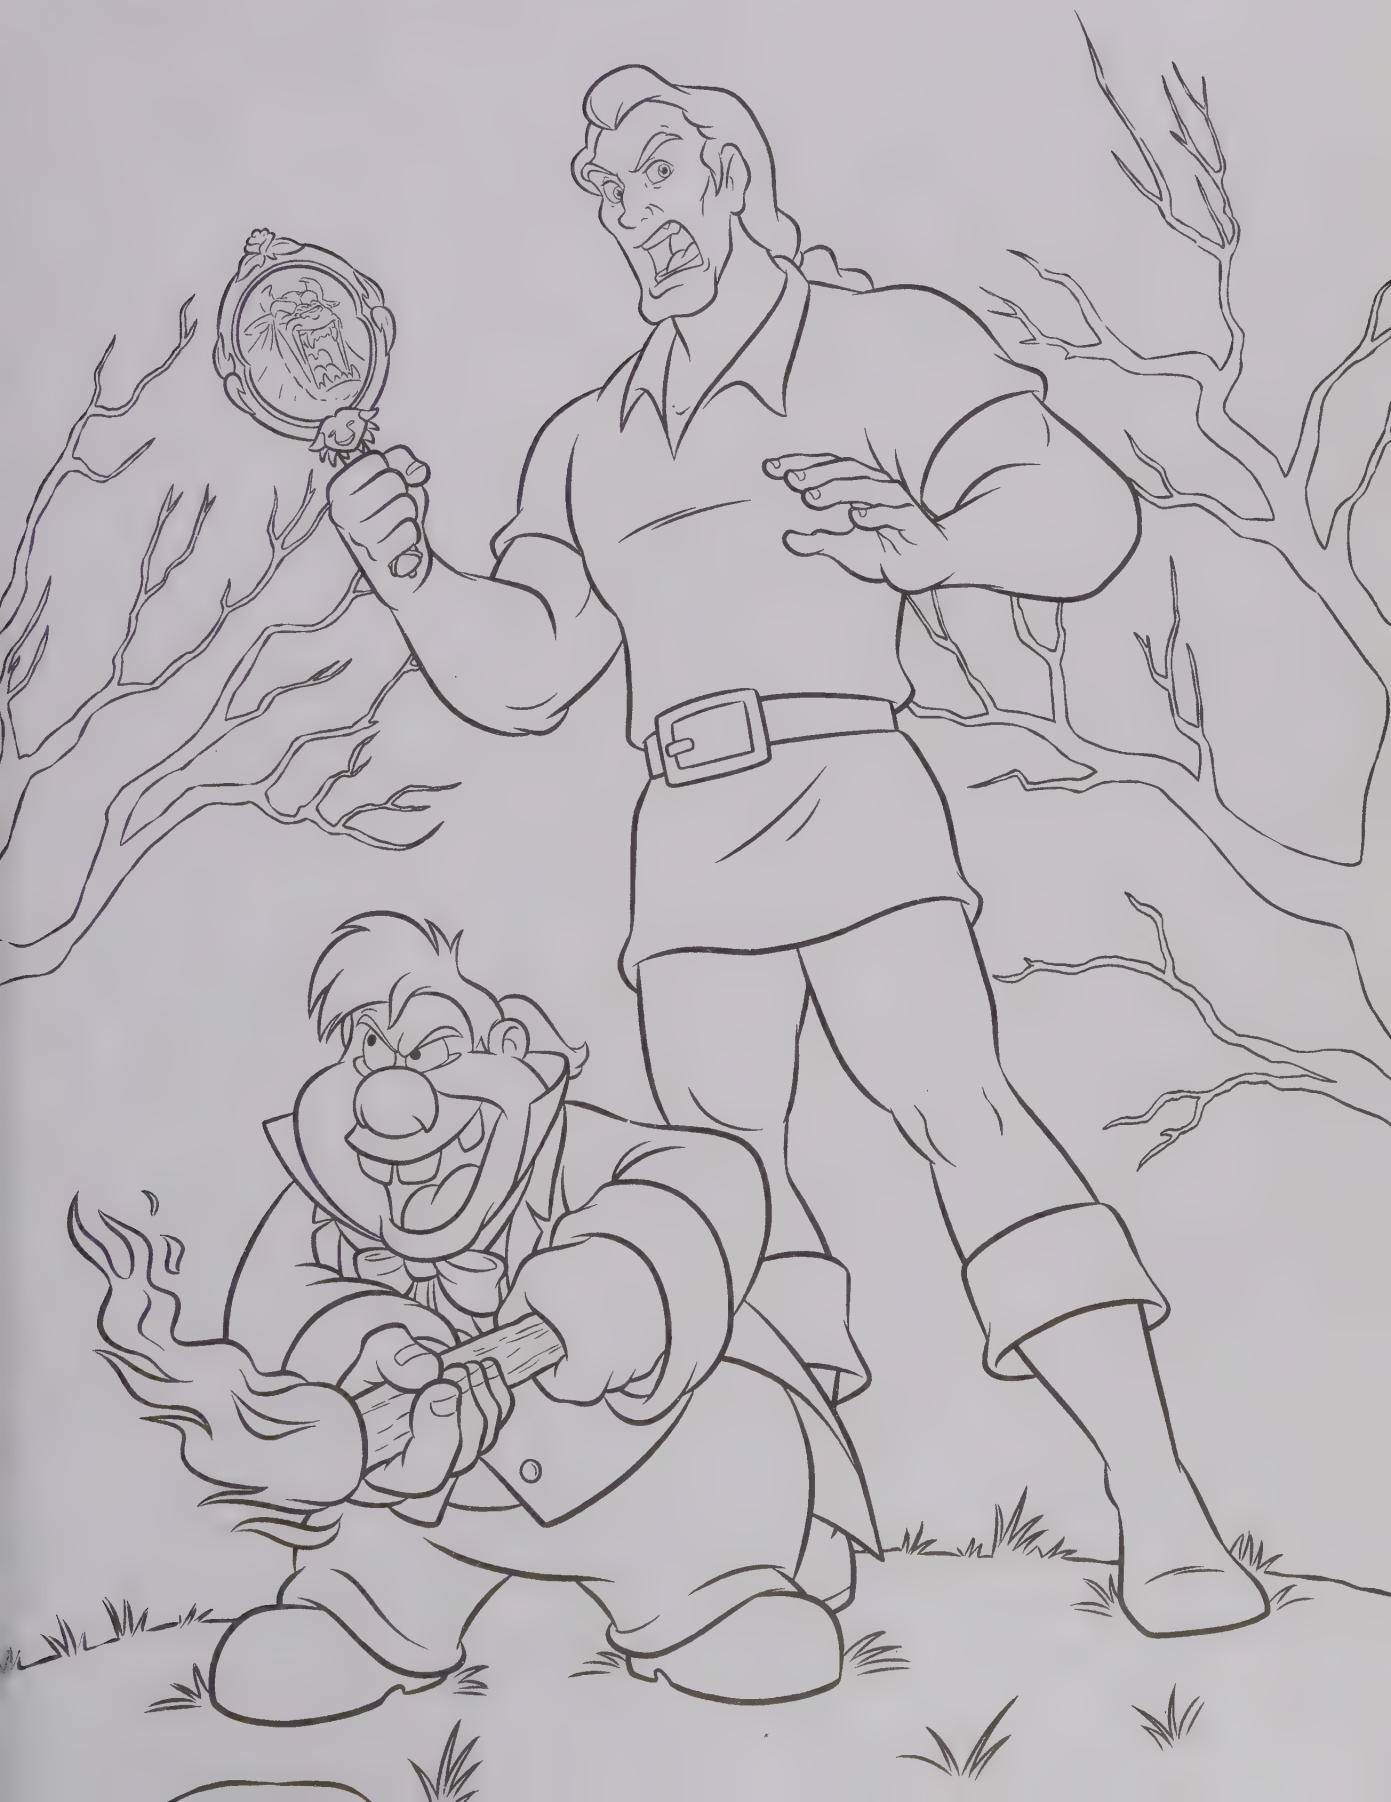

Maurice is delighted to see his beloved daughter again!

Belle shows the magic mirror to the villagers so that they can see that the Beast is real.

Gaston plans to get rid of the Beast – forever!

Gaston and his men march up to the castle gates.

Belle and her father rush to the castle to warn the Beast.

Gaston wounds the Beast, but then he falls from the balcony.

Belle kneels beside the Beast just as the last rose petal falls.

The Beast transforms into a handsome prince and the spell is finally broken.

Cut out and keep!

Ask an adult to help you cut along the dotted lines.

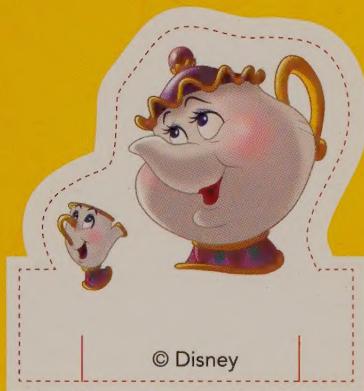

Then snip the slot lines and slide Belle, Mrs Potts and Chip, and Lumiere and Fifi into their stands. Now they're ready to be your guests and have some fun.
